Remarks:

There was a petition sent, 10/31/06 to; the Commissioner for Patents to; enter my replacement drawing, The new Director; John Love, erroneously denied entry of the same. He also erroneously attempted to sustain and invoke a final action, office action. Apparently; "Legal Instruments" caught the "mistake." He erroneously sustained an allegation of new matter in the drawing the; "protruding axial stock." He and the examiner should know that a "Boss" is; common term for support stock. Notice; "List of References by Examiner" in IFW of; 6/28/2005 and particularly the reference cited against my application; Borgudd, 5,176,589. The "bosses" aren't always numbered nor mentioned.

2165.01 - II. SPECIFIC EXAMPLE IS NOT REQUIRED - There is no statutory requirement for the disclosure of a specific example - a patent specification is not intended nor required to be a production specification. In re Gay, 309 F.2d 768, 135 USPQ 311 (CCPA 1962).

2164.08 states; "Nevertheless, not everything necessary to practice the invention need be disclosed. In fact, what is well-known is best omitted."

See; MPEP-706.03; Rejections Not Based on Prior Art and my provisional application; 60/254,901. See also; MPEP'S; 2111, 2163.07(a) Inherent Function, Theory, or Advantage, and 2144.01 Implicit Disclosure. The protruding axial stock of replacement drawing #2 is called; a boss (see; dictionary). All differentials have "bosses," as well as any other unit with a revolving carrier or housing.

2164.08(c) states; "Limiting an applicant to the preferred materials in the absence of limiting prior art would not serve the constitutional purpose of promoting the progress in the useful arts."
